

In Life We are On a Journey

- Early settlers had crossed miles of land and sea to come to this place. They brought with them their possessions and their skills. Members of the Kuse family were German. The Billings family was Swedish. Neighbors helped neighbors live, work and journey together as they built a new community.
- As you begin to walk east on this trail think about the pathways you have followed in life. How have these trails changed?